

Mothers' Congress.

The various committees of the Mothers' Congress met Friday afternoon, with Mrs. Lyman in the chair. Mrs. Lyman stated that the programme would be completed in a few days. The members are planning five sessions. One subject will run through the topics of each session. The first will be "The Family;" second, "Women:" fourth, "Education;" and the fifth reports and election of officers. There will be four day sessions and one evening. The latter will be a "man's meeting," and will be in charge of Professor Cooper and Professor Talmage.

Ladies' Literary Club.

The current events and current literature section met Friday afternoon at the club house. Mrc. Shelley Tuttle gave an interesting resume of the last session of congress. Miss Ethel Paul reviewed Barrie's "Tommy and Grizel," in a masterly fashion. She endorsed the opinion of the critic who said: "Mr. Barrie has written one of the most masterly and thought-provoking books of this generation. He is the greatest psychological study of the age, the style has not been surpassed by any book in the English language these many years."

The Aglaia.—Aglaia's meeting with Mrs. J. F. Grant on last Tuesday afternoon was an unusually happy and attractive session of the club. Her guests for the afternoon were Mesant chairman, Mrs. Bintz; secretary, Mrs. Miller; critic, Mrs. McMahon. It was also decided to study the history of France.

The programme for Friday, March 22, is in change of Mrs. J. H. Bennett. The first paper on "The Queens of the English Stage," will be given by Mrs. Hugh Park. The second paper, on "The Short Story," will be presented by Mrs. Miller; will be given by Mrs. Bent and Mrs. McCormick. A charming review of "Tommy and Grizel" was given by Mrs. F. C. Metcalf, without notes. Mrs. Snow, sister of the hostess, then sang with her clear, rich voice, to the delight of all. At this point came the main feature of the literary work—a paper given by Mrs. Elizabeth Hyslop Coray on "The Little Minister" and Barrie's Art." Though at present a teacher in Salt Lake, she was loyal to her club and came up for the afternoon to give her paper. Music by Miss Douglass will meet with Mrs. Susie B. R. Wells

Calder and Mrs. Susie Wells. The club will meet with Mrs. Susie R. R. Wells Tuesday next at 2 o'clock.

Daughters of the Revolution.

The Daughters of the Revolution held an interesting session yesterday. Mrs. Alfee Horne read a sketch o' the organization of the national association, and of the first twenty charter members of the local branch. These have been published in a handsome book bound in the association colors, and copies will be presented the president and registrar.

Following the programme the annual election was held, with the following result: Regent, Mrs. Clarissa Smith; vice regents, Mrs. Farnsworth and Mrs. Cannon.

Woman's Republican Club.

The members of the Woman's Republican club met yesterday with the president, Mrs. Rachel Miller, and formally incorporated. Besides working for Republican principles, the members hope to build a club house.

The Accommodating Bishop.

DEPOTE DE LA PORTE DE LA PROPRIE DE LA PROPRIE DE LA PORTE DE LA P

(Pilot.)
The Protestant bishop of Norwich, England, tells a rather good story against himself He was walking one day through a pleasant suburb of the city, when his thoughts were interrupted by a pleading thoughts were interrupted by a pleading voice saying:

"Oh. please, sir, will you open this gate for me?"

Looking down 'se bishop saw a little girl of about 8, with a cherubic face framed in sunny curfs, and he hastened to comply with the request. He heid back the gate for the little maiden to pass through, and when she thanked him with a smile, he asked if she was not big enough to open the garden gate herself. "Oh, yes, sir," she replied, sweetly, "but you see the paint is wet, and I should have dirtied my hands."

The signal corps challenge medal has been completed, and is now in the possession of Captain J. A. Greenewald. The prize shows a very beautiful piece of work, is of gold, and will cost about $18. The cross, flags and torch, the emblem of the signal corps, is raised on the front, while above and below this are short explanatory inscriptions.

The members of company C continue to push their dancing party, which is slated for next Tuesday evening at 8:30. The invitations are now out, and and Second West streets. Preaching at II a. m. and 7:30 p. m., by the Rev. Richard Wake. Sunday school at 12:15; B. Y. P. U. at 8:20 p. m.; Wednesday evening service at 1:32. A cordial welcome to all to all our services.

Burlington Chapel.—Corner Indiana avenue and Navajo street. Preaching at II a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school at 3:15 p. m.; Friday evening service at 7:30.

'The competitive drills of company C have become quite a feature of that organization's evening work. There are those in the company who evidently do not care whether they stand up or fall down, but these freaks will, of course, be found in any gathering of men.

The battery has also taken the dance The battery has also taken the dance fever. At the regular weekly meeting of that organization the advisability of holding festivities, in about a couple of weeks, was discussed, and favorably reported upon. Each member of the battery will be assessed; a each to defray expenses. A committee on arrangements was appointed, with Lieutenant Wells Margetts as chairman. The quarters of company H are indergoing marked improvements. Two knights of the brush and pot, Sergeant W. Soott and Quartermaster Sergeant Solion, are doing the work.

The non-coms. of company H will soon be subjected to examinations to test their ability to wear the stripes. All those who successfully meet the test will be given warrants.

Eight discharges were granted by company B last week to members who are out of the city.

Quartermaster Sergeant A. H. Lund discovered an army rifle in pawn last Monday, and upon investigation the piece was found to be the property of the guard. The gun was found in Uncle Sam's newsphere.

The anniversary ball to be given soon by company B is being energetically pushed. The committee on arrangements will meet this evening at 5 p. m., at the residence of Sergeant A. H.

On account of filness, First Sergeant Ed Jordan of company B has been unable to report for drills for a number of weeks. He expects, however, to be back for duty next Wednesday even-

The Great Bass of Lak San Claire.

(Detroit News.) A fisherman on Lak San Claire, 'Bout six miles off from shore Fished hard for one, two, three, four hours hours By an' by he fished some more.

Some time he fish with old dry bait, Some time he fish with wet— He give the dry bait to the fish The wet bait—nit! you bet!

By an' by one great big bass come long, 'Bout five, six. seven pounds weight, So old he neither smell nor see And ate that old, dry bait.

The fisherman stood very still
And reeled out yards of line—
He worked that poor old blind black bass
So very, very fine.

By an' by the fish began to pull, By an' by he pull some more, And then was run in Lak San Claire 'Bout six mile out from shore.

The fish he plungs like one mad horse, And then he pulled like ten— He towed that boat nine miles an hour— Big boat and four big men.

He pulled like bass 'bout six' feet long, May be he be 'bout seven, May be, if not pulled out right quick, He'll grow to be 'bout 'leven.

By an' by they pull that bass half out, By an' by they pull him more, And Lak San Claire fell four, five feet, 'Bout six miles off from shore.
